

Prof Luigi Boni, is the director of the Minimally Invasive Surgery Research Center of the Department of Surgical Sciences of the University of Insubria, Varese, Italy.

Once completed his training in surgical oncology, he focused his interest in minimally invasive surgery moving to Dundee (Scotland) where he worked with Sir Alfred Cuschieri for more than 3 years.

Back to Italy, he became Associate Professor of Surgery and founded the minimally invasive surgery research center. He published so far more than 120 scientific article on different topics in peer reviewed journal and more than 15 chapters in surgical book.

He is in the faculty of several well known center such as the IRCAD in Strasburg , the Cuschieri Skill Center in Dundee, the European Surgical Institute in Hamburg and many more.